ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Clerk announced that pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution No. 249, the Report of the Special Joint Study Committee on the 17% Wholesale Beer Tax Law had been received and filed with the Clerk's Office.

The Clerk announced that pursuant to Section 16-3-402, Tennessee Code Annotated, the proposed Rules of Juvenile Procedure had been received and filed with the Clerk's Office.

The Speaker requested that the following letter received from State Treasurer Harlan Mathews be spread upon the Journal:

Honorable Ned R. McWherter
190 Legislative Plaza
Nashville, Tennessee 37219

Gentlemen:

This letter represents the interim report of the study committee created by Senate Joint Resolution 216 of the 92nd General Assembly to investigate the desirability and feasibility of purchasing commercial liability insurance for the protection of the state and its employees. This committee, composed of the Commissioners of Personnel, Insurance, and Finance and Administration, the Comptroller of the Treasury, the Attorney General and Reporter, and the State Treasurer, was authorized to retain a consultant to aid in the study and was to report its findings to the General Assembly prior to February 1, 1983. Two procedural decisions made by the committee make it necessary to request additional time in which to complete the study.

Early in the study process, the committee determined that, in order to properly address the area of liability insurance, it would be desirable to include an examination of the state's present sovereign immunity position as well as alternatives to the state's present position. In making this decision, the consensus of the committee was that the General Assembly would desire information representing the results of a comprehensive review of the state's sovereign immunity position prior to addressing the question of insurance.

The second decision made by the committee was to delay retaining a consultant until background information was developed by committee staff, thereby allowing the scope of the consultant's activities to be better defined by the committee. It is anticipated that this decision will result in lower cost for consulting services. During January, 1983, the insurance consulting firm of Tillinghaust, Nelson & Warren, Incorporated, was retained by the committee to perform certain specific study tasks.

The combined effect of the outlined decisions is that the committee will not be prepared to issue a report on its findings and recommendations prior to the date specified in the resolution; however, as chairman of the committee, I anticipate that a final report, including the consultant's recommendations, will be available for your consideration during the first session of the 93rd General Assembly. If you require any further information regarding this study, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Harlan Mathews
